Member Services Overview

The State of California Employee Assistance Program (EAP)

From simple questions, like struggling with time management, to more difficult issues, like finding support after the loss of a loved one, the State of California is committed to providing a high-quality EAP to its employees and their eligible family members.

Your EAP includes:

- Member services that offer access to resources, tools, and clinicians to address emotional challenges and improve your health and well-being.
- Workplace support services offer help, assistance, and resources to managers and supervisors dealing with employees with performance and conduct problems.

Member Services

EAP services are offered at no additional charge to employees and their eligible dependents. Services are completely confidential and available at any time, day or night.

Magellan provides posters, member brochures, flyers, and articles that can help increase awareness about EAP services. Please contact your EAP departmental coordinator to request materials.

EAP counseling services

Members have access to licensed professionals who can help with emotional health issues, including:

- Stress and anxiety
- Marital, relationship, and family concerns
- Workplace challenges
- Depression and sadness
- Substance abuse and addiction

When a member calls Magellan, an intake specialist will assess the member's needs and evaluate the degree of risk of the caller. If someone is identified as in need of urgent help, they will be immediately connected with the appropriate person.

All Magellan network providers who provide EAP services are fully licensed and specialize in providing short-term EAP counseling. Providers include psychologists, licensed clinical social workers, certified alcohol and drug counselors, and licensed marriage and family therapists.

Online tools and resources

The EAP website, eap.calhr.ca.gov, offers a wide range of tools and resources that empower members to take charge of their well-being and simplify their life. The website allows members to:

- Search for an EAP counselor and begin the referral process.
- View EAP benefits.
- View pre-recorded webinars, podcasts, and videos that highlight emotional well-being topics.
- Access self-help tools, articles, and information for specific topics such as stress, anxiety, sleep, depression, legal issues, financial challenges, and more.

Work-life resources

The work-life program offers helpful resources and tools for everyday challenges such as finding childcare, locating home renovation services, daily discounts, pet services, and informative articles about children, relationships, and more.

Get personalized assistance and support—in just one phone call.

Work-Life specialists help members understand options and find local services—all with confirmed availability.

- Child and elder care needs assessment and referrals to childcare and eldercare providers.
- Assistance with available recommendations for daily needs such as travel assistance, home improvement contractors, local fitness centers, and more.
- Pet and animal care options and guidance.
- Education assistance including researching schools, programs, colleges, and more.

Legal, financial, and identity theft services

Legal services are available through EAP. Members can call and receive one, free 60-minute consultation per issue, per year on the phone or in-person at no cost. Consultations are available for issues relating to civil, consumer, personal and family law, financial matters, business law, real estate, estate planning, and more. (This program does not include advice on issues regarding the program, its employees, providers, or attorneys. This program covers one free initial in-person consultation per topic per year.)

Financial services are available to all members through EAP. Members can call and receive three free 30-minute telephone consultations per issue, per year at no cost. Consultations are available for issues relating to budgeting, credit and financial guidance, retirement planning, and taxes.

Identity theft assistance provides a variety of support services to guide members through fraud-related emergencies. Members receive one, free 60-minute telephone consultation with a highly trained Fraud Resolution Specialist™ who can assist members with restoring their identity and good credit.

Digital Emotional Wellbeing Program

EAP's Digital Emotional Wellbeing program, powered by NeuroFlow, helps strengthen your mind-body connection through interactive activities and education for overall well-being. Available via mobile app and your member website, this program can help you in a variety of areas.

How to Access EAP Services

EAP member services

Answered by a licensed professional at any time, day or night, seven days a week.

Members (employees and their covered dependents) are offered telephonic consultations as needed and face-to-face clinical counseling sessions.

EAP departmental coordinators

Contact EAP departmental coordinators to obtain printed materials, schedule training sessions, utilize organizational development services, or to increase employee engagement.

Workplace support services

Call a workplace support consultant at 1-866-327-4762.

Speak with a workplace support consultant regarding employee performance, or other team and organizational challenges.

Online tools and resources are accessible at anytime, day or night. View information, monthly webinar registration, articles, news, and more by visiting the EAP website at eap.calhr.ca.gov.

Workplace Support Services

EAP for managers and supervisors

As a manager or supervisor, you want to have the most productive and effective work environment possible. Managing people can be a rewarding and overwhelming task. It is important to be aware of employees' personal reactions to events in the workplace and outside of the workplace, which can impact productivity and the work environment. Events outside the workplace, such as problems in a marriage, family issues or other challenges at home, can become a distraction for your employees and may impact their overall performance. As a supervisor, it is important to listen but to avoid giving advice or your opinion when discussing situations and issues. The following pages provide an in-depth look at our suite of client services:

- Organizational guidance
- Organizational development
- Training and skill development

Workplace Support Consultations

Magellan's workplace support consultations offer unlimited telephonic support to managers and supervisors on how to best address difficult workplace situations such as workplace performance issues, attendance problems, workplace violence, emotional health, and more. Workplace support consultants provide objective and professional assessments, and will make a professional recommendation for the employee. With this service, managers and supervisors are empowered to do their best for their team and employees.

Types of referrals

Suggested self-referral. If you feel that an employee would benefit from EAP or an employee requests help in dealing with a personal concern, you can suggest that they contact EAP. As a supervisor, you can be a resource to help educate employees about EAP and what services are available.

Formal supervisor referral. A formal referral can be made by a supervisor when an employee's work performance has shown a pattern of decline. A formal referral is a way to make an attempt to address the performance of an employee. The formal referral is voluntary for the employee but it can be documented that an attempt was made by the supervisor to address the issue. EAP can help assist the employee to address personal problems that may be contributing to the decline in work performance.

The formal supervisor referral is a management tool used to improve work performance and resolve work-related problems. It is not intended as a disciplinary measure, nor does it replace the State of California's policies and procedures for dealing with poor performance or conduct.

Formal supervisor referrals are separate from corrective feedback and formal disciplinary actions such as adverse actions. EAP formal supervisor referrals, including contact information, should be done by a separate memo which is not retained in the employee's official personnel file.

Critical Incident Stress Debriefing (CISD)

What is a critical incident?

A critical incident in the workplace is a sudden, traumatic event that is overwhelming, emotionally charged, and often dangerous. Examples of critical incidents include:

- Natural disasters
- Bomb threats
- Robberies
- Death or injury on the job
- Assaults or threats of assaults
- Sudden, unexpected death of a co-worker
- Workplace violence
- Terrorism

How to request a CISD

CISD is a comprehensive approach to managing critical incident stress. Crisis response services are provided by professionals nationwide with a minimum of a Master's degree and training and/or experience in trauma, grief, and crisis response.

Crisis response training includes International Critical Incident Stress Foundation (ICISF), Red Cross, and the Psychological First Aid model of critical incident response.

How the CISD process works:

- Call and request that a provider respond in-person to a critical incident.
- You will be transferred to a workplace support incident EAP consultant, who will ask for additional information to assess the situation.
- Once the workplace support consultant has the necessary information, they will immediately begin searching for a provider to conduct CISD sessions at the requested time and place. CISD services are usually conducted 24 – 72 hours after an incident has occurred, or as deemed appropriate to meet the needs of the site.
- As soon as a provider is assigned, you will be contacted to make specific arrangements for the visit.

*NOTE: Some State of California departments have their own internal CISD process. Please follow your department's procedures prior to initiating a CISD request.

Training and Skill Development

Investing in your employees' personal and professional development can lead to greater productivity, enhanced work-life balance, and increased job satisfaction. Magellan's training program includes benefit training and health fair support to raise awareness of EAP services among employees.

The professionals in our national network of trainers and consultants are selected for their solid understanding of behavioral health along with their proven success as presenters and facilitators. Their wide range of expertise includes employee and management development, organizational development, employee relations, and workplace health and well-being.

Ready to schedule a training?

- Make a reservation. For existing training courses, please contact Magellan at least 25 business days in advance. Custom training courses will require additional time.
- Contracted hours. Training and skill development hours are deducted for actual service time only, not for set-up or travel time. Trainer's travel expenses will be pre-approved by the client and billed subsequently, if applicable.
- Cancellation of services. To cancel services without being charged, you must provide one week notice. Non-refundable travel expenses will be billed to the client.

Health and Wellness Trainings Frequently Asked Questions

1. How are the courses in the Options in Learning Guide delivered?

Courses can be delivered in a variety of ways.

- Classroom-based courses are generally held at the work site for a group (approximately 20 – 30) of employees.¹ Magellan’s training network allows us to locate a local trainer to facilitate the course in person. This format is typically best when the course topic could be emotionally stressful, or a lot of interaction is required, such as Navigating Workforce and Job Loss or Team Building.
 - Webinars are presented in real-time via the Internet for the content and via telephone² for the audio. Mobile access is also available using the Adobe Connect mobile app.³ Participants may log in to the webinar individually or as a group in a conference or meeting room.¹ Participants interact with each other and the presenter via poll questions and the “chat” feature. Speakers with over 30 participants may choose the listen-only mode and conduct all participant communication through the chat. Webinar meeting rooms can accommodate up to 100 attendees.^{4,5}
1. In-person trainings or gathering as a group may not be an option related to COVID-19. If in-person training isn’t an option, you may request a virtual training.
 2. Audio is also available via computer. However, the trainer does not have control over technical issues related to audio via computer, because of the diversity in the technology used by participants (ex. age of the computer, broadband). International attendees will have the option to listen to audio via their computer speakers.
 3. The Adobe Connect application can be downloaded from Apple iTunes, Android Market, or Blackberry App World.
 4. If you would like to use your company’s webinar platform, please discuss this request with your account representative. Magellan trainers are not responsible for moderating webinars outside of Magellan’s Adobe Connect platform. For that reason, if you use your company’s platform, you will need to provide technical support for the trainer.
 5. If you anticipate more than 100 participants, please notify your account representative to discuss options.

2. How soon in advance should I request a course?

Classroom-based: At a minimum, a notice of 25 business days is required to ensure we locate a trainer with experience in your course topic. Six to eight weeks is needed to create a classroom-based course that is customized to your company. Consult with your account representative if customization is needed as additional fees may apply.

Please note—larger scale requests, such as more than one training requested on the same day, may require additional lead time.

Legal/Financial trainings: These trainings are conducted by a legal/financial professional. To ensure the availability of an appropriate trainer, please request legal/financial trainings at least five to seven weeks in advance, especially if customization is requested. Please consult with your account representative for additional fee details.

Webinars: Due to their popularity, a minimum of 25 business days’ notice is also required for requesting webinars. Six to eight weeks is needed to create a webinar that is customized to your company. Consult with your account representative if customization is needed as additional fees may apply.

3. How do I decide which course to select and in what manner it should be delivered?

In addition to calling your account representative at Magellan for a consultation*, asking yourself the questions below can also help you to decide.

- What's going on in the workplace that led me to inquire about a Magellan course? (i.e.: a new product line, organizational change, employee stress)
- What do I want employees to gain from this course? (i.e.: strategies to balance work and personal life, strategies to cope with stress)
- What areas are the majority of employees talking about? (i.e.: financial strain, communication concerns)
- Do I want employees from multiple sites to participate at the same time?
- What learning format works best with our employees? (i.e.: classroom based, webinar)

Magellan develops training content to be easily adaptable to a variety of environments. When requesting a training, providing as much detail as possible will help the trainer tailor the subject matter content to fit the audience.*

4. Once I've selected a course, how do I request it?

You can request a course by calling either your company's EAP 800 number or your account representative. Be prepared to provide information such as the course you have selected; whether you would like the presentation via webinar or in person; anticipated number and position of employees participating (leader/non-leader/mixed); any relevant information/events precipitating the request and what day and time you would like the course held.

5. What if I don't see a course in the Options in Learning Guide that meets my needs?

Most of Magellan's standard trainings can be adapted to a variety of situations and audiences without additional fees. However, if you need an entirely new course, please consult with your account representative for customization fee details. Please keep in mind additional lead-time is needed for customization. Please note—Magellan does not create trainings in compliance with any state regulations and/or requirements.

Magellan maintains copyrights on all Magellan developed materials.

6. What if I schedule a course and then have to cancel it?

Please notify your account representative as soon as you know the course will need to be canceled. Please respect the trainer's schedule and provide at least one week notice. Consult with your account representative regarding cancellation fees if a training needs to be canceled with less than one week notice.

7. How long are the courses?

- Classroom-based: Classroom-based courses vary in length depending on topic, but most are between 60 and 90 minutes.
- Webinars: Webinars also vary in length, but are generally 60 minutes.

8. What if I want to change the content or length of a training?

Please contact your account representative to discuss this variation. Please note—customization of materials may change the course objectives. Also, all customizations require additional lead-time. Please consult with your account representative for customization fee details.

Magellan maintains copyrights on all Magellan developed materials.

9. Whom do I contact if I want to have Magellan at a health fair?

You can request Magellan attend a health fair by calling either your company's EAP toll-free number or your account representative. Let us know the location of the health fair, how many employees will be participating, and what day and time you would like the health fair to be held. At a minimum, a notice of 15 business days is optimal to ensure we locate a provider in your area.

10. Can a Magellan training session be recorded by the customer?

In order to retain sole control over Magellan copyrighted training content, Magellan does not allow customers to record their trainings.

11. How are the courses organized in the Options in Learning Guide?

There are six categories, and the bulleted list beneath each category will give you an idea of the types of courses located in that category.

Conquering Workplace Stress

Stress is inevitable, but not all stress is bad; when well-managed, it can help us grow and become resilient. In fact, when job pressures match our abilities and resources, stress helps to motivate us to achieve our goals. However, when we have difficulty managing our stressors it affects our ability to be productive and may start to impact our emotional health, relationships, and home life. In this training, participants will learn the common causes of workplace stress and techniques to manage these stressors.

Quick Stress Busters and Hacks

When we encounter stress, our brain and body go into "fight-or-flight" mode, causing our heart rate and breathing to increase and muscles to become tense. Over time, repeated activation of this stress response takes a toll on the body, both physically and psychologically. Since we encounter stressors every day, we need tools to use on the fly that give quick results and relief. In this training, participants will learn to identify stressors and signs of stress, as well as fast and straightforward ways to de-stress.
